What have we been learning...

What lovely weather we have had this month! We celebrated the Coronation for the King by having a lovely tea party in Pre School as well as getting stuck in with lots of activities. We have focused a lot on colours too and incorporated some books to go with, such as Elmer the elephant and Colour Monster! A big highlight was exploring colour mixing by rolling cars down a ramp. Its safe to say the children enjoyed this, so much so that the children ended up in their nappies and having to have 'baths' afterwards! As you may already know, we are transforming our garden so any items you think would be useful, please bring in.

Don't Forget...

Please can we make sure we are packing thin waterproofs or trousers as well as sunhats now the weather is getting warmer. Please also pack lots of spare clothes as we are doing even more water play now!

Donations

We would love any left over bottles or milk bottles.

An extra note...

If your child is sore during nappy changes, we highly recommend metanium - and it would be great for it to be sent in too.

What's next...

Next month is 30 days of Wild where we have lots of activities planned such as nature walks, making bird boxes, making bug houses and lots more.
