What Have We Been Learning?

Welcome back after a lovely Christmas break, it's been so nice to see all the children settle back in so well.

Our focus book has been 'We're going on a bear hunt' and we have been busy with lots of activities focused around this, such as puppets & sequence cards to help their retention of the story and order in which events happened.

We have been talking about the seasons and the months within them and the children then made collages to represent each month to use for our birthday board.

Planting is always on the agenda with our green fingered 'Tracey', who has been busy with the children planting seeds. We cannot wait for them to grow and bloom and to see the herbs and vegetables grow so we can use them.

Whats Next?

Next month we have lots planned to keep the children busy and engaged.

We will be celebrating Chinese New Year by making dragons using junk modelling, pancake day, valentines' day and children's mental health week.

If anyone has any small boxes we can use for our junk modeling, we would love to take them off your hands please.

Reminders

As the weather is turning very wet and cold, please ensure you child has the appropriate clothing for outside as we like to go out in all weathers, where possible. This includes a hat, scarf, and gloves please and can these be labelled.

We have started to send out homework for our school leavers to help get them ready for school, so please encourage them to complete this.

Library books have started going out again, so please read together and return to nursery once you have finished.
